But it is not the end of the disease; neither is it the final remedy."

AMONG OUR MILLS.

Items of Interest to Iron Workers.

[From the American Manufacturer.]

THE Anchor Cotton mills are being enlarged and improved.

JARED M. BRUSH & Co. have been awarded the contract for making the rising mains for the new water works, their bid being $144,455.42.

WHEELING is underselling Pittsburgh in the item of nails.—Phila. Star. The price of nails is fixed by the Western Nail Association, of which the Wheeling and Pittsburgh manufacturers are members. This nails that fib.

SOME cast and wrought iron pipe that had been embedded in Second avenue for nearly thirty years was lifted a few days ago, when it was found that the cast iron was rotted almost entirely away, while the wrought was well preserved.

AT the Black Diamond Steel-works, Park, Bro. & Co., last week, there was successfully rolled a plate of homogeneous steel of the following dimensions: Length 180 inches; thickness, ¾ of an inch; weight, 2,700 pounds. The credit of rolling this immense plate belongs to Mr James J. Woods.

Messrs. Schall, Hoevsler & Co., manufacturers of steam boilers, oil tanks and all kinds of sheet iron work, are now furnishing two oil tanks, 85 feet in diameter, for the oil region; they are also doing a large job for cotton machines, to go to Arkansas. This firm has been running steadily throughout the dull season, and they are gradually increasing the capacity of their works. They have recently erected a new and neat office at the works. They also manufacture the Siemens furnaces and blast furnace pipes, and various other articles. Their works are on the A. V. R. R., between Thirty-second Thirty-third streets.

OUR readers will remember the extraordinary make of iron by the Isabella Furnace No. 1 during the four weeks ended August 8, the production being 2,311 2080 2240 tons, or an average of 578 tons per week. But even this unheard of output was surpassed by the same furnace during the four weeks ended September 19, as follows:

	Tons.	Pounds.
Week ending August 29....	609	1,570
" " September 5....	609	780
" " September 12...	622	1,563
" " September 19..	611	50
Total	2,452	1,720

Average per week, 613 tons and 430 pounds. The stack is 75 feet high and 18 feet diameter at the boshes. This we believe is the largest yield ever made by a furnace of same dimensions.

The Franklin Foundry and Pipe works have been running steadily all summer and during the panic with a full set of hands. At this works are made cast iron gas, water and oil pipes of all sizes, together with all castings required about gas and water works. The owners, Messrs. James Marshall & Co., though young in the pipe business, are turning out some very fine pipe, being cast vertically—12 feet clear of the bowl, which gives 12 lineal feet when laid. They also make the Ford patent hot blast ovens and pipes. The works are extensive, and are situated at Nos. 18th, 19th and 20th and Railroad streets, with office at No. 43 19th street. They manufacture various other articles, such as gasometer towers, grate bars, fire fronts and doors, retort lids and fire brick of extra quality.

SHOULD there be any decided advance in the price of manufactured iron in this country we may look for a sharp competition from abroad. The high price of coal and labor in England has served to keep English irons out of the market. We believe that there has not been a ton of iron rails imported into this country since the first of January, and only half as much pig as last year. Coal has been and still is falling and wages are being reduced; cheaper fuel and cheaper labor means cheaper iron, and this means the probability of competing with us in our own markets, which could be done were there to be much of an advance in iron, especially with any reduction in the tariff.

THE age of steel is rapidly supplanting that of iron. The tendency of iron manufacture is toward steel and steely products. It is difficult, in the best boiler plates to decide whether they are a very high grade of iron or low steel. The demand for iron rails is growing less every year. Screws are now largely manufactured of Bessemer. The reports from Europe show this same state of affairs. In France during the first six months of the present year while the pig iron product increased 48,000 over the corresponding six months of 1873 other irons decreased 44,000 and the production of steel increased in the same time 28,000 tons. This increase is considerable for steel, since it represents progress to the extent of about 28 per cent. The production of steel in France is now established on a footing of about 215,000 tons per annum; with a probability of a further increase, as steel is being substituted more and more for iron.

AN IRISH WAKE OVER A NEGRO.

Coroner Maley Identifies the Body of an Irish Constituent in the Remains of an Unknown Colored Man.

[From the Cincinnati "Gazette."]

Last Friday night the body of a man was found drowned in the Ohio River, and an inquest was held on the remains, and a verdict of "suicide by drowning" was returned by the Coroner's jury. Dr. Maley, the Coroner, identified the body as that of an old constituent of his, a very dark complexioned, middle-aged man, named John Bolan, who was a prominent supporter of the Doctor and all the Democrats in the Eighth ward. Mrs. Bolan also recognized the remains as those of her husband—and the body was prepared for burial.

As Bolan was such a prominent and well-known man in his ward, extraordinary preparations were made for the funeral. An immense "wake" was projected, and participated in last Saturday night. Of "pipes, tobacco and whisky punch" there was no lack, and, considering the occasion, a lively time was had. But then the funeral cortege! Twenty five carriages, not to mention the hearse, buggies, and "citizens on foot." No less place than the Cathedral would do in which to say mass over the remains of the departed, drowned, defunct Bolan. And then the cortege mournfully wended its way to the cemetery, and the remains of the deceased were sadly deposited among the "silent majority" that had gone on before. Mrs. Bolan and her two small children were left alone in this world.

Bolan had been employed on the work of building the Southern Railroad, but in crossing the river — he came over on the ferry boat and presented himself to his wife, yesterday morning, alive, safe, and well. He had not been drowned at all. It was an unknown mulatto upon whom the inquest had been held, and whom both Mrs. Bolan and Coroner Maley identified. It is said that Mrs. Bolan is going to sue the county for the cost of the funeral, as she claims to have been led into it by a county official. No doubt the poor, friendless, unknown negro has not yet finished chuckling in his grave over the many attentions paid to his corpse and the fine funeral he enjoyed.

THE Phoenix Iron Company, at Phoenixville, have given notice that a general reduction of five per cent. on the wages of their employees, will take place on and after the first day of October.

Samuel A. Briggs, Vice President of the defunct Franklin Savings Bank of Chicago, recently arrested here, was taken before Judge Daniels in the Supreme Court to-day, and discharged by consent of counsel.

Alleged Undervaluation of Imports.

The Assistant United States District Attorney, who went to Europe last spring to obtain evidence against the importers in the cases of importations at alleged undervaluations, has returned. He says that he found the German Government greatly incensed against this Government, because, as was thought, it had issued commissions to its Consuls in Europe to cite the importers before them for the purpose of extorting information respecting the invoices made out in Europe. Acting upon that supposition, the German Government had informed the American Legation at Berlin that if the Consuls of this Government attempted to execute these commissions, their exequaturs would be revoked.

Railway Contractors in Court.

Wm. Osborn, who got the contract for building the Central branch of the Union Pacific Railroad, assigned it to Ralph M. Pomeroy and S. C. Pomeroy and others. The latter sold out his share, and S. C. Treadwell purchased one-fiftieth. Treadwell brought suit for a receiver and the distribution of profits, alleging that the original trustees were diverting the profits to extending the road. The motion was denied by Judge Barrett of the Supreme Court, with leave to renew on further affidavits. The motion was renewed to day, and denied by Judge Lawrence, on the ground that the affidavits disclosed no new facts.

Insurance Companies Advised to Discontinue Doing Business in Chicago.

The Executive Committee of the National Board of Fire Underwriters resolved that the authorities of Chicago having failed to comply with the suggestions put forth by the National Board on the 24th of July last, this committee now recommend that all companies belonging to the National Board discontinue the business of fire insurance in the city of Chicago, either by new policies or renewals, on and after October 1st, 1874.

CASUALTIES.

Terrible Railway Accident—Many Killed and Wounded.

SELMA, ALA., September 24.—At daybreak this morning a southern bound train of six cars, on the Selma, Rome & Dalton Railroad, went through a bridge on the Waxahatchie creek, falling sixty feet. The train is a total wreck. The engineer, fireman and several passengers were killed, and nearly all the remaining passengers are wounded, many dangerously. Among the killed is Wm. Boyd, ex Judge of the Supreme Court of Alabama.

Collision on the B. & O. R. R.—One Man Burned to Death.

CINCINNATI, O., September 24.—Rumors are current here of a terrible accident last night on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad between Smithton and West Union, West Virginia. Two passenger trains collided with terrific force, and the wreck afterwards took fire and burnt. The postal agent was killed.

BALTIMORE, September 24.—The officers of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company in this city give the following particulars of the accident on the Parkersburg branch of their road last night. The west-bound passenger train leaving Baltimore at 6:30 A. M. and the east bound passenger train leaving Parkersburg at 6 P. M. collided at Smithton, the regularly appointed meeting place, fifty-eight miles east of Parkersburg. Both engines were wrecked, and the postal car attached to the west-bound train burned, the fire being communicated from the lamps to the mail matter. The flames made such rapid progress that one of the postal clerks, named Bradford, was burned to death, and the bulk of the mail matter destroyed. The baggage car of the same train was also burned with the greater part of its contents. The platforms of a number of passenger cars were also demolished by the force of the collision. None of the passengers were injured, but one of the train hands received a slight flesh wound. The west-bound train had arrived at Smithton, and was preparing to go on the side track, when the east-bound train, which was behind time, suddenly came up and the collision took place.

THE BLACK HILLS.

The Recent Glowing Accounts Considered Unreliable.

WASHINGTON, September 24.—Full and later reports received here indicate that the recent glowing accounts from the Black Hills country are entirely unreliable, and confirm the opinion of Professor Winchel that there are no valuable minerals in the country. Col. Fred Grant, who accompanied the expedition under special instructions to report upon its theological character, says that the rock on which it is claimed gold was discovered is of a metamorphic character, in which no precious minerals have ever been found. Not over three dollars worth was brought under his observation during the entire expedition, and it is a question whether this was not imported into that section. The timber is spruce and yellow pine, and valueless for lumber. The area of tillable land is very small, there not being enough for a dozen good sized farms.

The Sioux Commission lately sent to negotiate with the Red Cloud and Spotted Tail bands went in their explorations to the base of the Black Hills on the south side, and give substantially the same views as Grant regarding the views of the country and the absence of minerals. The President is emphatic in his determination to carry out the orders of General Sheridan to prevent all invasions of this country by intruders so long as by law and treaty it is secured to the Indians.

The Regatta at Cincinnati.

The Honors Carried Off by Pittsburgh Oarsmen.

The Best Time Ever Made on the Ohio River.

Three Miles in 15 Minutes and 3 Seconds.

CINCINNATI, September 24.—One of the most exciting regattas that was ever rowed on the Ohio river took place this afternoon on the river between this city and Newport and Covington, under the auspices of the Exposition Commission. Cincinnati and Pittsburgh clubs, and the Naiad Club of Toledo, took part. There were four races, all down the river, without return.

First race, three quarters of a mile, single shell, three boys nine years old; time eight and a half minutes.

Second race, two miles, single junior shell, boys not over eighteen, Franklin eleven minutes fifty-eight seconds, Sweeney eleven minutes and fifty seconds.

Third race, single scull, two miles. Reilly fourteen minutes eighteen seconds, and Twaddle fourteen minutes and thirty seconds.

Fourth race, three miles, four oared shell; three entries. Duquesne Club of Pittsburgh, fifteen minutes and three seconds; Cincinnati, fifteen minutes and eight seconds; Naiad of Toledo, fifteen minutes and thirty seconds.

The day was fair. The contestants encountered delays, meeting river steamers in each race. The shores and windows of houses next to the river, steamers and bridges were crowded. The Pittsburgh club made by two minutes the best time ever made on the Ohio river. The Commissioners awarded medals to the winners.

A Hitch in the Morris-Brown Contest.

ST. JOHN, N. B., September 24.—A hitch occurred to-day in the arrangements for a boat race, the American backers of Morris failing to make a deposit. Brown's friends offered to advance the money needed rather than postpone the contest. Great interest is manifested in the result, but the betting is trifling, the Halifaxman the being favorite by two to one.

I. O. O. F.

Grand Lodge of the United States.

ATLANTA, GA., September 24.—The Odd Fellows' banquet at the Kimball House was a grand affair. Speeches were made by representatives from all parts of the United States and Canada. The Grand Lodge to-day selected Indianapolis as the place for the next annual session, which elicited loud and prolonged applause. The decision of the Grand Lodge of New Hampshire in the Fletcher case was sustained. The Grand Secretary was elected to deliver a eulogy on Post Grand Sire Kennedy, deceased.

The Grand Lodge

Resolved, That the Grand Sire be and is hereby authorized to adopt such measures in relation to the establishment of the order in Austria as shall seem to him most judicious for obtaining permission of the Austrian Government to establish the Order there, and to establish it there if such permission be obtained.

Resolved, That the Grand Lodges of the several jurisdictions subordinate to the R. W. G. L. be and they are hereby authorized to cause to be conferred the honorary degree of Past Secretary on any Past Grand in good standing who has served lawfully a term of Vice Grand and Noble Grand in a subordinate lodge.

The Grand Lodge almost unanimously passed the annexed report on resolutions passed by the Grand Lodge on the subject of lodge work on Sunday, viz: "That the same be and is hereby repealed." The committee respectfully report that the vote of the Grand Lodge at its last session upon the same subject was so emphatic against the repeal of said resolution that we need only refer to it as a full answer to the resolution above proposed.

This action reaffirms the position taken by the Grand Lodge in 1872, making it illegal to hold a lodge or encampment on Sunday for other than funeral purposes.

The Grand Lodge decided the question of consolidation in the negative. This puts a quietus on the amalgamation of two branches of the Order.

The Grand Lodge received an invitation from the Chamber of Commerce to visit their hall, on Friday afternoon, at three o'clock, which was accepted.

CHICAGO.

The Threatened Withdrawal of Insurance Companies.

CHICAGO, September 24.—The action of the Executive Committee of the National Board of Fire Underwriters in threatening to withdraw all companies belonging to that Board from business in Chicago unless the city authorities comply with certain demands of the Board, some of which are entirely impracticable, causes considerable comment, but very little excitement. There appears to be a great, though not universal, feeling among insurance men that many of the best board companies will pay no attention to the recommendation of the Executive Committee, but continue to write policies on good risks here as before. The business part of the city is now, it is believed, no more exposed to fire than that of any other city. New water mains are laid and other precautionary measures taken, and it is believed that while the best board companies will continue to do business, other outside companies, wholly reliable, will come in, and that there will be no lack of good insurance.

Collapse of a Boiler Flue.

MEMPHIS, TENN., September 24.—About two o'clock this morning the right flue of the boiler of N. J. Speer's cotton pen collapsed with terrible effect. The concussion shook the houses in that vicinity like an earthquake. Both ends of the boiler were blown out. W. H. Reckerd, engineer, was blown out of the cotton pen in front of the boiler, where he had gone to sleep. He was slightly burned by steam and hot water. A stable near the boiler was completely wrecked by pieces of the same, which were hurled against it with great force. The brick work in front of the boiler was demolished.

STATE BREVITIES.

DUNLAP'S Creek Presbyterian Church, of Fayette Co., celebrated its centennial anniversary on the 17th.

THE fair which recently closed at Brownsville, Fayette Co., having continued three days, was very successful in every respect.

JESSE STEWART, recently committed to Waynesburg jail for killing his wife, spends a good deal of his time in crying and bemoaning his condition.

ON Monday night last the postoffice at Pottstown, Montgomery county, was broken into and letters strewn about in every direction. About fifteen dollars in five cent pieces and pennies was the only money taken and very few if any stamps. Of course what letters were taken is hard to tell. Five or six stores and houses were broken into the same night but very little of value was obtained by the thieves.

SEVEN hundred dollars are offered for the arrest of Lenahan, who murdered Captain Riley in Wilkesbarre on the 15th inst. Lenahan is about five feet nine inches in height, weighs about 160 or 170 pounds, is about 27 years of age, light sandy hair, inclined to curl, same may now be cut off; wears light moustache, front upper teeth large and projecting, has a habit of keeping his mouth partly opened, has a scar or burn on side of face, and walks erect.

DURING the funeral of a child at the Presbyterian cemetery, Uniontown, Saturday afternoon, a horse, attached to a buggy in the grave yard, became unmanageable and ran away. It dashed around through the enclosure, over fences and tombstones until the buggy was completely demolished, and the horse sustained several gashes and bruises before it became reconciled. The animal belongs to J. Polk Winterbottom, and the buggy was the property of Eleazer Robinson. Nobody was hurt.

....Officer Mulvaney about nine o'clock last night observed two men rolling a barrel of oil along Wayne street. When they saw the officer they ran away. It is supposed the oil had been stolen.

....Pools were sold at the Rush House last night, on the scull race which is to take place to-day, between Brown and Morris, at St. Johns. The odds were in favor of Brown, pools selling at $40 to $60 in his favor.

....P. T. Barnum has offered the Women's Christian Temperance Union the use of his Hippodrome for a mass meeting on Sunday week next. It is also expected that Mr. Barnum will deliver a temperance address.

....Messrs. N. Snyder & Co., have completed sixteen of the boilers for the pumping house of the new water works. A preliminary test will be made this morning by Inspector Russell in the presence of the Water Committee.

....The will of Christian Wagner, late of Pittsburgh, was filed with Register Gray yesterday. The testator bequeaths all his property to his sister, Mary Smith, and appoints her sole executrix. It bears date of July 23, 1874.

....On Tuesday the 29th inst., the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago railroad will run an excursion train for those desiring to visit the Chicago Exposition. Round trip tickets, good to return until Saturday evening, October 3d, will be sold for less than half the regular price.

....The steamboatmen held a meeting yesterday morning in the rooms of the Coal Exchange and elected the following delegates to the St. Louis Steamboatmen's Convention, which meets on the 30th inst. Captain Chas. F. Adams, John T. Stockdale, Isaac Whittaker, Wm. J. Kountz, J. A. J. Smith, James Rees, Jr., R. C. Gray, Christ. Brennan, W. W. Ackley, Jos. P. Dunlevy. The delegates were authorized to add to their number.

....A number of the members of the Board of Revision, who have been for so long without their pay, called on Controller Snodgrass yesterday to get warrants, in accordance with the resolution passed by Councils on Monday, but they were informed that no warrants could be issued until Assessor Phelps, who is now absent from the city, returns and makes out a pay roll.

....Incendiaries have been busy at work this week at New Castle. Not long since an attempt was made to burn a large hotel, on Monday night another effort was made, on Tuesday night a fire near the same place was suppressed in time, and on Wednesday night a building in the market square was burned down. The citizens are talking of organizing a vigilance committee.

....On Thirty-third street, opposite Harrison's coal works, the new made ground on the west side has sunk to the extent of one hundred and fifty feet, extending to the middle of the street. It has caused a depression of over twelve inches curbing and cobble stones settling to that extent. The Commissioners should see to it, thereby avoiding accidents and prospective suits for damages.

....Smith Brazier and Scott McCartney were each held to bail in the sum of $200 by U. S. Commissioner Gamble, Tuesday for their appearance at the October term of the U. S. District Court. They are charged with violating the license laws in piloting the propeller "Caldwell" to the prize fight at Mill Creek last month. They have agreed to pay the penalty of $100 attached to the offence of piloting without a license in the meantime.

....The Executive and Finance Committees of the Centennial Exposition passed through the city yesterday morning on their way to the Cincinnati Exposition. The gentlemen composing them are Hon. D. J. Morrill, Col. M. Asch, A. T. Goshorn, M. M. Beckwith, L. W. Smith, Jno. L. Shoemaker, Jno. Welsh, Frederick Fraley, Mr. Shortridge, Mr. Little, Mr. Robb and Mr. Patterson. A number of other gentlemen were in the party but not as officials.

....These are charming Indian Summer days, bright, cheerful and inspiring, but the evenings and nights are cool, and we need a change of clothing, or more indoor life and bed cover. There is a certain dampness and malaria in the night air, both in town and country, and so one's system relapses under the more bracing air. The sudden changes of twenty or thirty degrees in twenty-four hours, and more than this at times, is not good for the health, and requires extra vigilance both in food and clothing. A word to the wise should be sufficient.

POLICE PARAGRAPHS.

Brief Mention of Petty Criminalities.

HENRY MYERS was committed by Alderman McMasters, yesterday, charged with larceny to await a hearing.

ALDERMAN MCMASTERS committed Mrs. M. A. Buckley, yesterday, charged with larceny to await a hearing.

THERE were two common cases before Deputy Mayor Barker, yesterday. Both were discharged by the payment of their fines.

MARY CUSHIN lodged an information against James Dennison and his wife, before Alderman Logan, yesterday, for keeping a disorderly house. Warrants were issued for the arrest of the defendants and the officer succeded in capturing Mrs. D., who was committed in default of bail to await a hearing.

MICHAEL MURRAY and Christopher Ward were engaged at card playing yesterday afternoon, in Wagner's saloon, on the South Side, when they got into a dispute, which resulted in blows. Murray was arrested and taken before Deputy Mayor Barker, who imposed a fine of $10 and costs. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Ward, who has not, as yet, been found.

MRS. TULL appeared before Alderman Logan, yesterday, and made complaint against her husband, Robert Tull, whom she claimed had been gambling away his money and when she attempted to lecture him upon the subject he became quite fractious and committed an assault and battery upon her. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Robert. Both parties are colored.

A CHARGE of larceny by bailee was made against a suspended policeman, by the name of Riley, yesterday, by Saml. Fairfield before Alderman Krehan. It appears that the complainant had made a bet of twenty dollars with another party and gave the money into Riley's hand as stakeholder. The bet fell through, however, and the complainant desired the return of his money, with which request the stakeholder would not comply; hence the suit.

J. V. FROEBE appeared before Alderman Krehan yesterday and charged Ferdinand Marsh with obtaining the deponents endorsement to a bankable note for $300 by falsely representing that said note was intended to reduce previous endorsements of the deponent, when, in fact, it did not reduce them. He further alleged that the defendant negotiated said note at the Farmers and Mechanics' Bank as a new loan, thereby cheating and defrauding the deponent to said amount. Warrant issued.

The Ohio Convention to be held at Akron—Partial Programme of Arrangements.

The eighth annual Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association, of the State of Ohio, will be held at Akron, beginning on the 23d of next month, and continuing three days. The Committee of Arrangements have issued a circular to Sister Associations, inviting them to send full delegations of their most active members to represent them on this occasion. They accompany this request with the hope that the Convention may be attended with an out-pouring of the Holy Spirit, and ask the prayers of all those connected with the organization to be offered to this end. A Reception Committee has been appointed, the members of which will wear blue badges so they will be known by visitors. They will, so far as possible, meet delegates at the depot, but in case they should fail, they request all strangers to repair to their rooms where ample accommodations will be made for their comfort. Special arrangements have been made with the railroads companies to carry representatives at excursion rates. The welcome meeting will be held in the First M. E. Church on Friday evening, and the farewell exercises will take place in the Academy of Music on the following Sabbath evening.

An interesting session is looked for, and we have no doubt the expectations of all will be realized, judging from the past history of these Conventions.

A SEVERE TEST.—The Commissary General of the United States, after a trial of all the principal starches in the country, decided that Duryeas' "Satin Gloss Starch" was the best that could be procured, and the Government from that time to the present is buying this article. This is a fact worthy the attention of consumers. WFM.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 109⅞.

THE Minnesota Democrats have followed the lead of their party elsewhere, and declared for free trade.

A DISTRESSING railroad accident is reported near Selma, Alabama. The train went through a bridge, falling sixty feet. Several persons were killed and wounded.

THE Missouri Republicans have joined the People's movement, which insures the success of that venture, and will probably result in the re-election of Carl Schurz to the United States Senate.

THE entire unanimity with which Governor Dix was renominated in New York, speaks of the strength he has in the Republican party. He has done grandly during the term of office now closing, and will be elected by a grand majority.

WE have received a copy of the first issue of the Sunday Tribune, of Philadelphia. It is a quarto, similar in size, type, and width of column, to the New York Tribune, and is ably edited and spicily made up in its news department. It is independent and able. We wish it success, well filled though the field may be.

WE urge our friends, who may wish to be relieved from all embarrassment in voting, to be sure and pay their county taxes during this week or next. The possession of a receipt for last year's taxes will meet the law, but in the absence of this, payment must be made within the time mentioned. If made at a later time, but before the election, it will not answer. Remember, then, that this and next week constitute the period within which county taxes must be paid if you would not be embarrassed in casting your vote.

THE Philadelphia Ledger has started after the illegal practices of the "Row" offices in that city, in a very effective manner. It calls attention to extortionate charges by the Register of Wills, and the unsuccessful effort of a gentleman to have him arrested. Judge Finletter finally told the gentleman aggrieved that he had issued commitments, but they had never been brought to trial. Thus the Courts protect other officials in the known violation of law. This makes up a grave charge that is worthy very serious attention.

COLONEL McCLURE forwarded a letter to the Republican Senatorial Convention in the Fourth Philadelphia District, declaring himself unable to be a candidate before it, as he would not blindly pledge himself to support its candidate. But if he should prove devoted to Philadelphia rather than personal and partisan interests, he will receive the Colonel's "cordial support." The Convention nominated Horatio Gates Jones, who is strongly vouched for as meeting McClure's conditions; but whether he will so regard it remains to be seen.

DR. McCOSH, President of Princeton College, distinguished his opening lecture in the metaphysical course, this year, by a reply to Tyndall's address at Belfast. While rating Tyndall highly as a scientist, he regards him as but little skilled in philosophy, and as not even knowing the best sources from which to obtain correct information. He failed, claims McCosh, to point out the distinction between matter and mind, or to notice the fact that matter never becomes mind. The lecture is said to have been very able, although hastily prepared.

BOTH Germany and Russia manifest alarm at the rate at which their subjects are emigrating to this country. In five years, according to German official reports, it has lost 700 000 persons yearly. The tide of emigration from Russia has just commenced, but so vigorously has it been conducted, and so large is its future promise, that very material concessions have been made to the classes chiefly interested. At this day a Government may embarrass, but cannot actually prevent emigration; and because of the tendency of persons to seek free countries, the autocratic character of foreign governments may yet be modified.

STRANGE THINGS.

The case of John Leskar, Esq., who died in Allegheny, a short time since, poor and almost friendless, is now made the subject of elaborate editorials in New York papers. The strangeness of his history,—he was a conspirator against his Government, and hoped to be King John of Saxony, but failed in his effort,—is the particular topic of remark. If our New York friends want a little of versatile history, we have the material here for things equally strange. We have men who began with nothing, and are millionaires, having made their money in legitimate trade. We submit that however tame this looks, it may be garnished up to look better than the case of a man who lost a fortune, however high his expectations were. We have plenty of poor devils who had vast fortunes and expected to be Presidents without either a conspiracy or a revolution, who are no better off now than poor John Leskar was before he died. There is a man in this country, who, less than fifteen years ago, was a clerk in a leather store in Galena, and lived in a story and a half brick house, perched on a hill side. Since then he has made for himself one of the grandest military reputations of the age, been elected President of the United States for two terms, and filled the position with great dignity and honor. We submit that it is hardly necessary to gush over broken-down European adventurers, when we have so many cases of marvelous change in fortune and position among our own countrymen. Take the country over, and impoverished noblemen, and wrecked adventurers, who have come to us from Europe, are too thick to be particularly noteworthy.

MAKING WILLS.

Making wills must be a cheerful business. It keeps a man in mind of his "latter end;" is a convenient excuse for counting up his spare cash without being called a miser; helps him to look around to see if he has any grievances to avenge; and affords him, so to speak, the assurance of post mortem satisfaction, for all the slights and mistreatments his expectant relatives have put upon him. Dr. M. Newton Mercer, of New Orleans, seems to have thriven sufficiently well to have deemed wills important documents. So enamored did he become of them, that he prepared and left no less than eighteen of these cheerful and confusing records. He was death on codicils. As for sub codicils, heirs, heiresses, legatees, and the like, they were the joy of his soul. His thoughts seem to have dwelt on this cheerful subject long and lovingly. Once a month a new idea would come marching along, in stately gravity, and forthwith a new codicil was prepared. Now his old clothes must be bestowed; then a dozen handkerchiefs; then possibly the recipient of the handkerchiefs might die before he did, and a successor to the legacy is provided; then some one must have $2,000; then General Lee is to have $1,000 in gold; and so on, to number eighteen. His estate footed up $1,500,000, and was worth eighteen wills. Strange to say, no case at law grew out of them,—the heirs having the good sense to prefer to enjoy the property themselves, rather than have the honor and pleasure of bestowing it on gentlemen of the legal fraternity. However much we would advise persons to restrain their will-making propensity, we hold those heirs up as patterns worthy of imitation.

THE SPIRIT OF REBELLION.

It is impossible to say what the White League will or will not do in Louisiana, but in all the discussions of the situation in that State it should not be forgotten that it is the dominant influence on the side hostile to the Kellogg Government. As such, it is an armed organization, secret in its meetings, and evidently aims to dominate by terrorism the sentiment of that State. Its spirit is that of the rebellion,—haughty, violent, bloody, and careless of the rights and wishes of others. Horace Greeley declared repeatedly that the South was forced into rebellion by the armed menace of the slaveholding leaders; and it is illustrated frequently that the armed few can terrorize the unarmed and peaceful many. Hence, whatever the adjustment that may be proposed in Louisiana, none can be admitted that recognizes the dictation of the White League. On the contrary, the arrogant nature of its threats of again driving Kellogg from power unless some compromise is agreed upon should promptly open up the question whether the White League shall not be compelled to disband, under force of the law.

It is in such institutions as this that the spirit of the rebellion is kept rife. The Ku Klux were its first embodiment, and there is no evidence that it was seriously interfered with by native Southrons, until the General Government stepped in and suppressed it. Since then a restless, turbulent feeling has been apparent, but it lacked organization till the White League came up. In this, there is strength such as the Ku Klux never had, as it pretends to represent the better grades of Southern feeling, and hence claims a public mission. But of all this it is the executive,—the material power,—ready to use arms, and resort to violence and bloodshed to enforce its decrees. What is needed is that all the South shall know that it is just this the North and the Government at Washington will not submit to. Where there is a clear expression of the will of the people South, the desire of the North is that it shall be respected. We know of no person who might be elected to fill any office South that we would not be glad to see protected in that office. But we are not prepared to have the White League dominate the South by force of arms. And this is just the issue now to be met.

A MIDDLE GROUND.

The intense feeling that evidently exists among striking miners, because of the selection of Italian laborers to fill their places, suggests one cause of disagreement which leads to conflicts, from time to time, between capital and labor. It is the development of antagonistic feeling, where none ought to exist. We know too little of the controversy between the miners and the mine owners along the Pan Handle road, to speak particularly of it; but we judge the same general features are identified with it that attend all other strikes. However small the difference, and harmonious the feelings at the outset, each party becomes more positive as the contest continues, until stubbornness and ill temper eventually follow. The employment of the Italians is proof of the presence of this on the part of the operators; and the severe threats made, shows that the miners are equally excited. What is this all about? Simply a disagreement in business; a dispute over the rate of wages. In other directions, where men do not agree they separate, without loss of kindly feeling. A person desires a piece of property, or to purchase goods at a store; the price being high, no dispute ensues,—he simply goes somewhere else. Why cannot this be made to apply where labor is in the market? The right of men to charge a given price, to combine in an agreement that none of their number shall work for a less price; or if he does to exclude him from their fellowship, is recognized. But the right of the capitalist to go outside this organization and employ other parties ought to be equally recognized.

The root trouble in all such difficulties is the cultivation of at least two false ideas as to the relation between capital and labor. The first is that there is a necessary antagonism between the two. There are those among workmen who seem to think that the one great aim of capitalists is to oppress labor. There are possible instances where this is true; but as a rule we do not believe it to be true in this country. Capital must protect itself—must be so managed as to sustain itself in competition with other capital. To fail in this is to exhaust itself, when it can be of service to no one. But where no unusual pressure is brought to bear upon it, we do not believe, as a rule, it seeks to oppress labor. There is no necessary antagonism between the two. In the general operations of business there is a closely recognized adjustment of profit between the two. Hence where workmen start out with antagonistic feelings, they do wrong to their employers, who are often full of kindly interest in them. The other erroneous idea is that compulsory influences are necessary and best in adjusting differences. There may be occasions when these cannot be avoided, but as a rule a candid and friendly statement of points will either arrange the difference of views, or lead to such clear explanations of the causes, as to convince one party or the other, or lead to a compromise. One great mistake, in our judgment, that miners make is, to entrust their cases to outside authorities, who hear their statement of grievance, and order submission or a strike, as the case may be. It would be much better to select the most intelligent, calm-minded, and influential person of their own number and make him the official negotiator with their employers, leaving him, in all cases to carry out the promptings of his own judgment.

There are many reasons for this. He would not be embarrassed with instructions, and could act freely. He would be in position to fully discuss all the bearings of a disagreement. Adjustments that might not be thought of in advance by either party might be suggested. At all events, such a course would generally have more influence with employers than would threats, or the interference of outside parties. If an adjustment of differences could not be reached on such a basis, the fact that every reasonable effort was made to secure it would serve to draw popular sympathy toward the employees. We offer these suggestions in a spirit of friendliness to the miners, or workmen of all kinds, for that matter. It is always better to cultivate kindly relations,—whether with employer or associate. It is often the man,—not his capital,—that decides. If with that man, be he an employer, overseer, superintendent, or else, you have maintained agreeable relations, he will be slow to oppress you. But if, in all your dealings, you show a sullen, forbidding spirit, and are ever unkind and disobliging, he will probably not hesitate to return evil for evil. The golden rule is wonderfully pertinent and wise in its application to business relations, "whatever ye would that others do unto you, do ye even so unto them." Treat kindly and fairly, those from whom you expect kindness and fairness.

POLITICAL NOTES.

A VICTORY for the Democracy is a triumph for the White League.

THE Chester county Democracy on Tuesday nominated Dr. W. D. Hartman for Congress.

THE total number of Southerners now excluded from holding office by reason of political disabilities, is less than 150.

THE Springfield (Mass.) Republican wants to "give the devil his due," and takes Jeff Davis as its subject. Very appropriate.

ON Tuesday, Hon. John B. Packer was unanimously renominated for Congress by the Republican Convention of Northumberland county.

HON. WM. A. WALLACE was nominated Democratic candidate for Senator from the Centre, Clearfield and Clinton districts, by the conference held at Bellefonte.

IN the new edition of school books adopted in the South the primer of the series, in recounting the story of the good centurion, says of him: "He was a good man, and a slaveholder."

THE Albany Argus says the Democracy have "sunk their foundations to the very center of the earth." They are on the right track. If they will dig a little deeper it will be the last of them.

HON. THOMAS J. INGHAM, of Laporte, who is now Additional Law Judge, has been nominated by the Republican Convention of Wyoming county for President Judge of the Wyoming and Sullivan Districts.

THE caucuses in Salem and other eastern towns of Massachusetts resulted in an unexpected show of force by Dr. Loring's friends, and it is now intimated that he may make an effort for the gubernatorial nomination.

THE Democratic ticket nominated in Northampton county on the 21st instant is as follows: Congress, Wm. Mutchler; State Senator, David Engleman; Assembly, Andrew Snyder, Ambrose J. Erwin, John Stotzer; District Attorney, Val. Hilburn; Sheriff, Birge Pearson.

NO, MESSRS. DEMOCRATS, not yet. The Republican party has blundered, sinned, come woefully short of its duty and opportunity, has deserved and received many stripes, yet stands to-day the truest friend of liberty, equality, peace, and good order. The funeral services have been postponed.

SPEAKER BLAINE is surely in training for the Presidential run or something tremendous. An Augusta letter says he has of late been giving considerable attention to bodily exercise. On a pleasant day he may be seen in his yard, hat, coat and vest off, swinging huge dumb bells and clubs, and again he is up and out for a long walk when everybody else is sound asleep.

BUTLER has evidently decided to leave the question of the Massachusetts Governorship to other hands. Delegates to the Republican State Convention were elected in Salem on Monday night, and were all instructed to vote for Dr. Loring for Governor. All of the Butler men worked for Loring. Butler doubtless sees work ahead of him in his Congressional contest.

THE following is the full Democratic ticket nominated in Cambria county on Monday: Assembly, John Hannan, John Buck; Prothonotary, Barney McColgan; District Attorney, W. H. Rose; Commissioner, W. D. McClelland; Poor Director, Charles Flick; Auditor, M. Sweeney; Surveyor, Henry Scanlan; Coroner, John Bradley; Chairman County Committee, J. G. Lake.

GEN. BEATH is a most fortunate man. He has not only secured the good opinion of all those whose favor is valuable, but he has succeeded in gaining the ill will of those whose advocacy is disastrous. He is supported by the Republican party, and he is maligned by the Harrisburg Patriot and Guss, of the Cassville Soldiers' Orphan school—and he is a young man yet!—Harrisburg Telegraph.

THE Monongahela City Republican and Washington Reporter warmly endorse the nomination for Assembly of Messrs. Billingsly, Gabby and Farrer in that county. They think "a Legislature composed of such men would be proof against all the arts of unscrupulous lobbyists, and would speedily put an end to the charge of bribery and corruption so frequently flung in our faces by the press and people of other States."

THE election of the People's party in Missouri, and of the Democratic party in Illinois, would be the installment of the Schurz Hesing combination for the control of the politics of the West. Mr. Hesing was not allowed to "run" the Republican party of Illinois, and he left it, after denouncing it as an organization in the hands of "English speaking scoundrels." Mr. Schurz first betrayed the Republican party and then denounced it as a combination of "Grant's sycophants." We are opposed to Mr. Hesing's Democratic party in Illinois, and to Mr. Schurz's People's party in Missouri.—St. Louis Globe.

GENERAL GARIBALDI has just published an account of his famous expedition against the Roman States. The book has been published by subscription, and the profits have amounted to 12,000 francs, which sum is said to constitute the sole fortune of the author. In the preface Garibaldi appeals to the young men of Rome to take an interest in politics.

LOUIS KOSSUTH proves to be as irreconcilable as ever with the established state of things in Hungary. He declared recently that he was in accord only with the Party of Independence, which aims at freeing Hungary from the Austrian connection. He encourages his friends to hope that a great European movement will arise and permit him "to strive with them for the holy cause of the independence of Hungary, and the liberty of the people." The ex-Dictator must still be reckoned among the revolutionary elements of Europe, although he has no organized party under his control.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

THE Newport hotels have nearly all closed their doors for the season.

THE Augusta cotton pool was won by Lee Howard, of Charleston. His estimate was 4,169,875, being 513 bales less than the actual crop.

IT IS less than fifty years ago since the world began to build itself railways, and now it has 32,000 geographical miles of them, equal to a construction of two miles a day since the beginning.

A CLERGYMAN'S cat in Massachusetts has just been showing symptoms of natural depravity. Having given birth to seven kittens, and two of them being black, the depraved animal removed the black sheep and utterly refused to take any notice of them.

THE landlords of Chicago are wise in their generation. Rents have been lowered thirty per cent. this year, and there is great activity in building. The property holders have decided to aid the resumption of business by a reduction of rents, and the effect has been wholesome. It would be well if the landlords in other cities would follow the example set them by Chicago. While wages are coming down rents should certainly follow suit.

M. GILSON, writing in the St. Petersburg Gazette, upon the subject of precious stones, states that owing to the plentiful supply of diamonds from South Africa, these much prized gems are at a lower price than they have been for ten years. Pearls and emeralds are, however, at a premium. An opal about the size of an olive would fetch about 1,200 rubles; a sapphire, about 1,800 rubles; an emerald, 10,000; a diamond, 18,000; a ruby, 50,000. Pearls come from Central America, California and Persia; none rival those of the East Indies.

THE atlases will have to be revised again. Mont Blanc is no longer the monarch of the European mountains. He must bow his "bald and awful head" before Mount Elburz on the Northern or European side of the Caucasian water-shed. The height of Mont Blanc is variously estimated at from 15,732 to 15,784 feet, but his rival Mount Elbur, which has just been ascended by some members of the English Alpine Club, is found to be 18,526 feet high. In shape, the mountain is described as a flattened dome like an inverted teacup, and although it has all the Alpine characteristics of snow-fields, ice-lakes, and glaciers, it can be climbed without much difficulty by experienced mountaineers. Mr. Grove, one of the climbers, says: "The Pennines from Mont Blanc are nothing compared to the east chain seen from Elburz. The Caucasian groups are finer and the peaks sharper."

VERY STRANGE CASE.

Young Lady Driven to Death by a Curse.

Miss Lauraina Cross, a school-teacher in Stark, N. H., lately committed suicide by drowning, under the following circumstances, as related by a local paper: She had had charge of the school for several weeks. The scholars thought much of her, and till within a short time before her death she kept an orderly and excellent school. But during the last week all seemed to be disorder and confusion in the school. The committee, Dr. A. Thompson and M. T. Pike, Esq., having heard of the fact, visited the school on Friday, and found it much as above described, on which, after the school was dismissed, they kindly talked with her privately relative to the school, told her how it seemed to them, and advised her, as she appeared pale and nearly sick, quietly to go to the agent and resign her position; or if she felt strong enough to go on with the school, and thought she could improve in the particulars they mentioned, she could do so. She said she would determine what was best between that time and the hour of school the next morning. They left for their homes. She did not return to her boarding house that night, and her friends became alarmed. The school house was locked. On looking in at the window the key was seen on the floor. On entering they discovered on her desk some little articles of value she had taken from her person, and the following note, addressed to her sister:

"Dear Mary: All I have to say is that the curse is fulfilled. The daughters shall die in sorrow, if not in shame, before they are twenty. Ask Albert Thompson and Thomas Pike why. Good-bye all.
"LAURAINA."

Search was made for her body. The school house was situated on the bank of the river, where the water was deep and still, and the body was found near by. Before the coroner's jury her sister explained the note by relating that they were the children of Amos K. Cross, of Waterford, Me., and that, in consequence of some difficulty between them, her father separated from his first wife and was again married, on which his mother, taking sides against him, pronounced with dreadful emphasis the curse upon her son's children: "His daughters shall die in sorrow, if not in shame, before they are twenty, and the sons shall be cut off in infancy." She said that for some time Lauraina had constantly dwelt upon the subject of the curse, and the more so, recently, as she was nearing the age of twenty, and she had done and said things which had caused her to think that her sister meditated suicide. And her roommate testified that only a week before she had spoken of it to her, and alluded to the fact that she was over nineteen years of age, and if the curse was fulfilled she had but a short time longer to live. The fact that some of her brothers died in infancy tended to strengthen the superstition, so that insanity and death were the consequence.

A FEMALE HERMIT.

Romantic Stories Concerning Her.

The life of Mary Ham, of Rye, New Hampshire, who recently died at the age of ninety-two, was romantic and interesting in the highest degree. For the nineteen years preceding her death, she lived the life of a hermit in a lonely hut, to which water and the broom were strangers during all her residence in it, and which was so filthy that an ordinary person could hardly bear to be in it for a moment. Here she ate and slept and got drunk, and was never glad to see company. The only thing that, in any measure, relieved this hovel of its dreariness was a package of well worn love letters, and these explained her eccentric life. She was very much admired when twenty years old, and was very coquettish withal; but she finally fell in love with one Charles Waldron, and their love letters were of the warmest sort. He tired of her fickleness, however, and dismissed her. This broke her heart, but, to make it appear that she cared nothing for it, she engaged herself to a brilliant young scapegrace, named John Ham, who had been expelled from Dartmouth College, and being himself disappointed in love, married her in a fit of recklessness. He died nineteen years ago, and ever after she lived her strange life. There have been many interesting stories told about her, one of which was that she had a large sum of money concealed in her hut, but a search after her death disproved this. The letters, however, showed that her love affair had gone so far that her wedding outfit had been prepared and the day appointed, when the thunderbolt came. The circumstances of her last sickness led to the suspicion that she had been poisoned. She was found with a bottle by her side lying on a bed in extreme agony; but rum and mental suffering probably account for all. The town authorities determined to "clean out" her den a few days before her death, but they were obliged to tear her from it, screaming and struggling, and the purification required two days' work and a bonfire. The neighbors gave her every comfort possible in her closing hours, and a niece whom she had not seen for twenty years visited her, and the old woman recognized her.

AN ÆRIAL VELOCIPEDE.

Another Neck-Breaking Machine.

Monsieur E. Caillon, of New York, has entered a caveat in the Patent Office for the ærial velocipede. The model, which is about fifteen feet in length, he keeps in a back room in his house. There are two small balloons of equal size to balance the æronaut, leaving him free to change his position in any direction by means of the machinery. These two balloons are confined by framework instead of network and cording. M. Caillon says that the confining of the gas in the frame work will keep the velocipede more steady than netting. The seat is between and below the two balloons and behind the main shaft of the machinery, which can be rotated by either the hands or the feet of the operator, a treadle and a crank being both provided, while a small driving wheel to the right enables him to reverse the motion easily. The entire hull of the aerial vessel is a light framework, which preserves the relative position of the operator and the two balloons unchanged. Being thus seated in a contrivance which when loaded has hardly any greater specific gravity than the air, the velocipedist propels himself in any direction by means of three wheels of canvas stretched over a light framework, and fashioned similarly to the screw of a propellor. The wheels are to work in connection with a rudder which is at the front of the whole machine. The rudder consists of two parts, one of which is perpendicular, and is worked laterally, guiding to the right or left, and the other is horizontal, and guides up or down. Both are governed by cords. One of the three screw wheels is above the head of the velocipedist, and the two others at his right and left hands. They are worked together by means of a cog wheel connecting the two shafts, and one motion is to send the velocipede forward and upward, while the reverse sends it downward and backward. The second and third points covered by Caillon's caveat are the upper wheel, which raises the velocipede and the double rubber in front. The side wheels are similar to M. Caillon's machine exhibited in the Paris Exposition of 1867, for which the Emperor Napoleon is said to have given 30,000 francs.

A Letter from Mrs. Stowe.

The following letter from Mrs. Stowe to the Rev. Wm. H. Allen, of Burnley, England, appears in a late number of the London Christian World:

"BROOKLYN, August 6, 1874.—Your letter to my dear brother in this season of trial is most cheering and most hopeful. It is a true communion of saints, when, from across an ocean, the hand of Christian fellowship is stretched, and we feel that there is a real unity of all who love the Lord Jesus. It is my comfort so thoroughly to know that my brother is suffering for his faithfulness to the Spirit and teachings of his Master. The attack comes from the head of the so-called Free Love party, opposed to Christian marriage and the Bible. It has been a foul conspiracy of a nest of these people to entangle his feet and to annihilate all that he has done for the cause of Christ. But I am happy to say that every mail comes laden with testimonials of sympathy and confidence from every part of our land. My brother is surrounded and upheld by a host of wise and powerful friends; his health is good, his courage unabated, and we hope that before this reaches you he will come out fully victorious over this vile slander. He desires through me to express his appreciation of your Christian sympathy.
"Very truly yours, H. B. STOWE.
"Rev. Wm. H. Allen, Burnley."

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, September 25, 1874.

Nothing new, as regards banking operations. The approach of October, with its quarterly settlements, does not seem to be forecast by an unusual demand on the banks, indicating that a cash basis exists, in general business that does not fear disturbance, or seek accommodation. There will possibly be a more active local money market after the first, when the Allegheny Railroad bonds are issued, it being understood that much idle money will be invested in them. This will turn this money into the channels of trade.

The robbery of the Bank of Industry yesterday, of $2 000 was the sensation of the time. It was the old, old confidence game repeated.

Of the general financial situation, the New York Bulletin says: As the fall season advances the proofs multiply in support of the opinion that for the next six months at least we may expect a tranquil money market. We learn from London that the drain on the Bank of England has ceased, and if ten millions in gold should still be needed from us, we can, without perturbing or crippling our own monetary movements, export that amount of gold or more with ease. Thus the danger is taken away that monetary trouble here might arise from the failing reserves of the Bank of England. On the contrary, our monetary position will, in all probability, be improved by the continued tide of investment which sets this way from the other side of the Atlantic. There is abundant evidence that our money market is receiving large supplies of capital from Amsterdam and other continental sources, and this circumstance adds to the weight of the arguments which tend to justify confidence in the immediate future of our money market.

Turning from these general considerations to the interior condition of the banks, we find them in a very hopeful condition in several very important respects. Their reserves are large, and, beginning the Fall trade with so ample a margin over and above their legal minimum, they are well able to meet the pressure and respond to the demands incident to the season. Moreover, they have been and are actuated by the most conservative caution. Consequently the state of mercantile credit is more healthy than in previous years. Thirdly, there is less disposition than has prevailed among some of our banks to withdraw or curtail mercantile accommodations in order to lend their money for speculative purposes. These and many other points more or less important are cited in support of the opinion that our banks are profiting by the lessons of the late panic. It is to be hoped that they will long continue to do so.

There has been a revival of stock speculation in New York, but the market, while tending upward, is tremulous and uncertain.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, Sept. 24, 1874.

The general tone and feeling in our city markets continues to improve slowly, and while the demand for the leading commodities is still confined to a very narrow limit, yet the volume of trade is fully up to what might be expected under the existing circumstances. Country merchants and retail merchants generally are still moving cautiously by carrying just as small stocks as possible, and notwithstanding their orders are small, as compared with former years, yet they are more numerous, and more frequently made. In regard to values, there have been no material changes since the date of our last report; all that appears to be necessary for a change in all branches of the market is the usual seasonable demand, for prices on everything have evidently touched bottom.

Below will be found the current rates in the leading branches, together with the feeling of the market in detail.

APPLES—Are still in limited receipt, and not equal to the demand—prices remain unchanged, ranging from $1@2 ℔ brl.

BUTTER—The market continues strong, especially for the finer grades, the supply of which falls short of the demand. Sales of prime to choice at 32@35, and medium to good at 28@35. The common grades are still in demand, owing to the high price of lard.

CHEESE—Is still firm at the recent advance, but the receipts are not considered equal to the requirements of the trade, although firm, we continue to quote prices at 14@15 for Ohio Factory and 15@15½c for New York.

EGGS—The receipts continue light and the demand is steadily increasing, hence prices are quoted firm 19@20 for strictly fresh. Some dealers report sales at 21.

FLOUR—The market, although rather quiet, is reported strong, but prices remain as last quoted, as follows: Spring wheat flours at $6.25@6.75 for Wisconsins and $7@7.50 for Minnesotas, the latter figure for choice old stock; red winters $6@6.50.

GROCERIES—The advices from the seaboard report both sugars and Coffees very firm, and a further advance is not improbable. Our dealers report the grocery market fairly active, and prices generally unchanged. The demand for Sugars and Coffee is quite active, but values are generally unchanged since the date of our last review.

SUGARS.—Hard, 12⅜ A. 11⅝c; B. 11⅛c; Ex. C. 11⅛; Yellows, 8⅝ to 9⅝c; Demerara 10⅝@11c; P. R. 9⅝ to 10c.

COFFEE.—Fancy Roasted, 25c; loose, 24½c. Choice Rio, 25; prime, 24c; good, 22c, Java, 31.

SYRUPS—Fancy Maple, 75, prime, 70; fair, 70; N. O. Molasses—Choice, 88, prime, 85, fair, 80 @85; choice Demerara Molasses, 75, prime, 68.

RICE—Choice Carolina, 9, prime, 8¾, Patna, 8¾c, Rangoon, 7¾.

GRAIN—There is still a more active market in Grain, and, although Wheat is very firm, there is no change to note in prices. The receipts of Wheat are not in excess of the demand, and we continue to quote Penna and Ohio red winters, $1.12@1.15; amber and white, $1.18@1.20. Millers are buying sparingly, notwithstanding the feeling prevails that prices have about touched the lowest point. The Oat market is more active, and prices have further advanced. Sales at 62@64, as to quality. Corn continues firm, and in limited supply, but the demand is only fair; we continue to quote shelled at 90@93. There is little or no thing doing in either Rye or Barley and, in the absence of sales, we omit quotations.

HAY—The receipts of baled continue liberal, and with stocks accumulating, the market is dull, although prices are not quotably lower, ranging from $18@23 ℔ ton.

ONIONS—Are coming in freely, but with a steady demand, there has been no accumulation as yet, and prices are sustained, ranging from $3@4 ℔ brl.

POTATOES—The market continues well supplied, but the demand is steady. Sales at 70@75. Sweets selling at $3@3.50 for Baltimores and $4 50@5 for Jerseys.

PEACHES—The receipts from abroad are falling off, but there are plenty coming in from the adjoining country—quotable at 50c to $1,50 per bush, as to quality.

POULTRY.—Live chickens are quotable at 40 @55c ℔ pair, according to size.

PROVISIONS—The market is still moderately active, with an increased jobbing demand; prices are firm but generally unchanged. Following are the current rates: Hams—Extra Sugar Cured, ℔ ℔, 15. Shoulders—Extra Sugar Cured, 12; Breakfast Bacon—Sugar Cured, 16½c; Dried Beef—Ex Sugar Cured, 16½. Bacon—Shoulders, 11½c per pound; Clear Sides, 16½ cts. Mess Pork, ℔ barrel, $27; Lard—Refined for summer use in trcs, 16; hlf brls, 16⅛; bkts, 17; 3 lb caddies, 17⅛; 5 lb. do, 17⅛. 3 lb. pails. 18; 5 lb do, 17⅛; 6 ℔ do, 17⅛.

RAGS—Woolen, ¾c; cotton, 2¾@3.

SEEDS—Timothy Seed quoted at $2.90@3 ℔ bushel to the trade and $3.15@3.25 in a jobbing way.

TALLOW—City, 3. country, 6¾@7.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, Sept. 24, 1874.

The market to day was a trifle weaker, and quotations about an ⅛c lower than yesterday. There is not any disposition on the part of refiners to sell at present, in view of the advance of rail rates, which will go into effect October 1st. Refined quoted at 11⅞c for spot, and 12c for first and 12⅛@12¼ for last half of October. Crude unchanged, but a weaker feeling prevails. For spot 9¼c is asked, but it is thought a plump bid of 8⅞c would be readily accepted. Refiners here are only buying a little from day to day, as there is no margin on refined even at the low price of Crude.

The barrel market remains very dull. Sales to-day of cities on cars at Valley depot at $1.40—1,000 delivered at refinery at $1.45. Countries are quoted at $1 30@1 35, with fair arrivals.

GEORGE H. ROHE,
Sergeant, Signal Service, U. S. A.

At six o'clock last evening the stage of water in the Monongahela river was nineteen inches, and falling slowly.

Capt. Harvey Darlington, of the steamer Carrie Brooks, arrived from Zanesville last evening. He returns home in the Columbus mail train this evening. The Captain reports poor crops in the Muskingum Valley.

At the steamboatmen's meeting in the rooms of the Coal Exchange, yesterday, the following gentlemen were selected as delegates to the Steamboatmen's Convention, which meets in St. Louis on Wednesday next: Captains W. J. Kountz, R. C. Gray, C. L. Brennan, J. A. J. Smith, I. R. Whittaker, C. F. Adams, Jas. Rees, Jr., and J. T. Stockdale. In the hands of such efficient gentlemen there need be no fear of any Pittsburgh boating interests being allowed to suffer. The Committee will depart for St. Louis on Monday next.

Wharfmaster Buchanan is having a number of new posts and ring-bolts placed on the Monongahela wharf. Two of them have been put in near low water line; two others will be located high up the wharf for use in times of flood. Our boatmen will fully appreciate these improvements.

—Monday's Cincinnati 'Commercial' has the following: The Miner left St. Louis for Pittsburgh, Wednesday, where she will be wrecked, and a new boat built to take her place in the Upper Missouri trade. Hull Inspector F. Opperlander finished the specifications for the new boat. The following are the dimensions: length 19 feet, beam 31 feet, hold 3½ feet. She will belong to Doc. Burleigh, of Yankton ......A dispatch from Evansville of Wednesday says:—The Ohio River Commission met at the St. George Hotel, this city, at 2 P. M. Governor Moorhead in the chair. In the absence of Captain Santmyer, John A Shank was made Secretary pro tem. Upon the call of the States, the following Commissioners were present: Pennsylvania—Governor J. K. Moorhead, Geo. H. Thurston and Joseph Walton. Ohio—John A. Shank and J G. Peebles. Kentucky—Captain L. A. Fowler. Indiana—O. P. Cobb and I. A. Lemcke. Illinois—John Gilbert and W. E. Brown. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Mr. Thurston, Chairman of the Executive Committee, made a brief verbal statement of the action of the committee before the last session of Congress, and the result of their labors. Colonel W. E. Merrill, by request, occupied most of the afternoon in explaining, by drawings, the various systems of movable dams, in which the Commission took deep interest, and afterwards passed a resolution most heartily indorsing his plans for the commencement of a radical system for the improvement of the Ohio river and tributaries, and urging upon the Representatives in Congress to aid in securing the necessary appropriations.

—The Cincinnati Gazette of yesterday says:—The river has declined to two feet four inches, which is as low as it was in 1832. The record at the water works shows that it is one inch lower than in 1858, when a record was first made, but we are informed that prior to the opening of the record in 1858, the river had declined to twenty inches, which is regarded as low water mark. There will be a perceptible rise here this morning.——Dick Fulton, of Pittsburgh, is stopping at the Grand Hotel. He has but recently returned from Europe.——The Argo passed up yesterday, with a little side wheel steamer lashed to her.——Jas. Rees, Jr., clerk of the Exporter, arrived from Pittsburgh yesterday.

—The Louisville "Courier" says: In 1837 Pat Yore was a barkeeper on a flat stern, two chimneyed boat on the Upper Ohio. There was a one chimneyed boat called the Rambler lying at Wheeling when Pat's boat came down and landed alongside. They were both to leave for Cincinnati and a crowd of passengers were hesitating which boat to take, when Pat, who had whisky and cigars to sell, went ashore and got among the people. "Gentlemen," said Pat, "any two chimneyed boat will beat a one chimneyed one, and you had better take the two chimneyed one." They did. Pat sold lots of fluid as she steamed down the Ohio, for an hour or so, but the crowd got excited and was about to clean him out when the one chimneyed Rambler overtook and passed them. Pat had made his point. Pat Yore is living yet.

—Says the Cincinnati 'Commercial:' Colonel Merrill has awarded to Captain James Hobson the contract for clearing obstructions out of the river, between here and Madison. Capt. Hobson will commence operation forthwith a short distance below the Suspension Bridge. Captain Pink Varble was the only other bidder for the contract.——Next season there will probably be a line of regular packets between this city and Nashville. The boats will be the Shannon, Shippers' Own and F P. Gracey.

—The Cincinnati 'Gazette' says: The Phil Morgan, a little towboat that left here for points up the river one day last week, with a barge of merchandise, stove the barge in, and sunk it Saturday night at Scioto Bar. She put the freight on the wharfboat and took the barge to Ashland to be docked, after which she will return to Portsmouth, and get her freight.——The Carrie brought the 30 Pittsburgh pilots from Middleport to Portsmouth.

—A dozen or twenty Upper Ohio pilots assembled, Tuesday morning, at the rooms of the St Louis Pilots' Association, Cincinnati, and resolved to effect an organization similar to those of the Cincinnati and St. Louis and Cincinnati and New Orleans pilots.

—Scribner's for October has an interesting account of a trip on the Great Republic from St. Louis to the Lower Mississippi. It is embellished with engravings, including 'the pilot house' of the steamer, with a full back view of Beck Jolly, the pilot at the wheel.

—The United States Local Inspectors of St. Louis have revoked the license of Mr. Joe Jaynes, one of the best known pilots on the Lower Mississippi—cause, too much ice water; several others are on docket for same cause, which will be heard from in a few days.

Lost Bonds Recovered.

Yesterday morning a man found a pocket-book containing U. S. bonds to the amount of about $10,000, lying in a pile of old castings near the Point. The owner soon after heard that his property had been found near where he had lost it, and at once called on the finder and obtained his property.

Badly Scalded.

On Wednesday evening a colored workman in the salt works on the corner of Beaver avenue and Juniata street, Allegheny, accidentally fell into a large pan of boiling salt water, scalding his legs up the knees so that the skin and flesh peeled off. A physician was summoned and the injuries attended to, after which the injured man was taken to his home.

Dry Goods Store Robbed.

Some time during Wednesday night the large dry goods establishment of Messrs. Morganstern & Co., at No. 42 Fifth avenue, was entered by burglars, who found an entrance through the back part of the building, and stole a large quantity of silks and other goods, amounting in value to over $2,000. It is said that a clue has been obtained to the robbers, and that the detectives are on their trail.

Third Anniversary.

The Third Anniversary of the opening of the Home for Aged Protestant Women will occur on Thursday next, October first, at the Home, on which occasion a grand dinner will be served up. The Home now contains a large number of aged women, dependent largely upon the contributions of the people of Pittsburgh, and the managers will feel greatly encouraged by a liberal attendance on this occasion. The price of dinner tickets is half a dollar.

Crushed Under a Train.

Last evening, shortly after 6 o'clock a little boy, fourteen years of age, named Smith, jumped from a train of cars at Woods' Run, Allegheny, while the cars were still in motion and stumbled against another boy who was standing beside the track, and being unable to check himself, he was thrown back and fell with one leg on the track, over which the train passed, crushing the limb below the knee. He was removed to a house near by, and Dr. Buchanan summoned, who found it necessary to amputate the leg below the knee. The injured lad was then removed to his home in the Eleventh ward.

The schools were consolidated in the year 1856, at which time the enrollment was as follows:

Total enrollment	6,724
Teachers employed	109
The total receipts for 1874 were	$702,206 98
Expenditures	601,629 19
Balance	$100,577 79

The increase of pupils for 1874 is 1,441.

Ordinances Signed.

Yesterday morning Mayor Blackmore signed the ordinance authorizing the City Engineer to employ such an additional force as he may deem necessary for the transaction of the business of his department, also the new bill known as the "Peanut Ordinance." The latter provides "that hereafter it shall not be lawful for any person to occupy or use sidewalks or streets, or any portion thereof, for the purpose of vending fruits, peanuts, or any other article of merchandise, or for selling soda, mineral or lemon waters, under a penalty of twenty dollars, to be collected by summary process." As will be seen the ordinance is very comprehensive in its provisions and applies not only to the peanut and fruit venders but to grocers, tailors, dry goods dealers, and all who use the sidewalk in displaying goods. The Mayor say he will vigorously enforce the ordinance and has instructed his police to arrest, after to-day, all who violate it.

"Two Hearts that Beat as One."

Cupid, who has all seasons for his own, and whose victories are multitudinous, last evening gleefully rejoiced as he signalized another triumph by leading two more victims to the hymenial altar. The twain who thus yielded to the conquering influences of the frisky little sport, were Mr. Robert Baglin, one of the GAZETTE's trusted typos, and Miss Tillie Riddell, one of the fairest of the fair in our goodly Smoky City. The interesting incidental ceremonies which attended the occasion were gracefully performed by the Rev. Dr. W. A. Davidson, and were witnessed by a few intimate friends who had gathered with gifts and congratulations that attested their interest in the scene and in the estimable young couple who were thus set and proved and locked up in the matrimonial chase. And our young friends were in every way deserving of all the good wishes of which they were the recipients—good wishes to which we wish to add, as our expression of regard for genuine worth, a hope that all their connubial sojournings may be gilded with the sunshine of the fullest prosperity, happiness and peace.

EXCURSION TO CHICAGO.

To the "Garden City" and Back Again at Less than Half Rates—A Rare Opportunity to Enjoy a Pleasant Trip.

We can conceive of few pleasures that would be more attractive these cool, shadowy September days, than a ride by rail from Pittsburgh—through farm lands mellow with autumnal glories, through cities throbbing with business life, and over broad prairies fanned by the most exhilarating breezes—to the Garden City of the West. The pleasure of the journey, however, is doubly enhanced when the pecuniary outlay is of such a trivial character as is now proposed by the Pittsburgh, Fort wayne & Chicago Railroad Company. The efficient General Passenger Agent of this Company, Mr. F. R. Myers, has been at work, and has arranged for a special excursion, to enable all who wish to visit the Exposition to do so at a trifling expense. The company will run a Special Excursion Train from Pittsburgh to Chicago, on Tuesday, September 29th, leaving Pittsburgh at 9:55 A. M., arriving in Chicago at 7:00 A. M., at a very low rate for the round trip, considerably less than half fare. This train will be composed of the best coaches the company have, and to insure comfort, but a limited number of tickets will be sold at stations between Pittsburgh and Crestline; from the latter point the train will run to Chicago without stopping. Return tickets are good on any train stopping regularly at the station from which they are issued, until and including Saturday evening train October 3rd.

The excursion on such liberal terms has been arranged to give the local patrons of the company to take a look at the Exposition attended with the least possible expense. But if the exposition was not the attraction, a trip over the "Fort Wayne," one of the smoothest roads in the world, would itself richly repay the pleasure seeker.

THE COMING CANVASS.

Getting Into Working Trim—Meeting of the Republican Executive Committee—Arranging for the Campaign—The Prospects Discussed.

Yesterday afternoon the first meeting of the Republican County Executive Committee of the campaign, was held at the Lincoln Club Rooms, the attendance being large and the majority of the districts represented.

The Chairman, S. P. Fulton, Esq., presided.

Mr. F. P. Case stated that one of the principle objects of the meeting was the appointment of a Committee on Speakers for the ensuing campaign.

Secretary Smith then read a lengthy list of the new committees and additions to old ones.

Attention was then called to the fact that the Finance Committee was destitute of a chairman. Mr. Fulton as Chairman of the Executive Committee appointed Jos. Gazzam, Esq., as the needed chairman, and the appointment was accepted.

The advisability of holding mass meetings at an early day was discussed, and the chair announced that he had been in Philadelphia recently and was informed that as soon as the campaign opened that we could have several able speakers here, among others Col. Alex. McClure. After some discussion, on motion the question of mass meeting was left to the committee on meeting and speakers.

On motion of Mr. Gazzam it was decided to hold weekly meetings of the committee hereafter.

Informal reports from various districts in the county were then heard—showing that the work of organization had been begun, and was progressing encouragingly.

Mr. Case moved that the Committee on Meetings and Speakers be requested to make arrangements for mass meetings on the South Side, Allegheny, McKeesport, and such other places as they may deem advisable. Carried.

Reports from the various standing committees were next made, after which Mr. Dennison, Chairman of the Vigilance Committee, tendered his resignation, which was not accepted.

Mr. Schaffer moved that members of the Naturalization Committee be requested to send in names of active Republicans in the various wards to form vigilance committees. After being amended so as to have the committees advertised, the resolution passed.

General Negley being present, was called up for a few remarks and said in substance, that the practical issue of 1861 was destined to be repeated in 1874. The prospects of the Republican party were beginning to look better, now that the business prospect is more cheering and that the Democratic party of the South are showing their true colors under the guise of KuKlux and White Leagues. The Republican party need not be ashamed of its record.

The question of the franchisement of the colored race was to-day a greater question than since the rebellion. The Republican party had a record better than at any time since the war. The legislation of the last Congress had been eminently successful. It paid over $5,000,000 of National indebtedness and relieved the people of $300,000 of taxation. It had passed the most important measures and instituted economy in every branch of government. There was a better tone to the government now than ever, and he was proud of the government and the party that had made it so strong. He believed the party was as strong now as ever and that the coming canvass would witness another triumph.

At the close of the General's remarks the meeting adjourned.

THE ITALIAN COAL MINERS.

In Their New Quarters—Everything Quiet—The Miners Taking a Rest.

In our issue of yesterday we gave a statement in regard to the importation of Italian coal miners to work in the Pan Handle district. At half past four o'clock yesterday morning they left the Union Depot for their new quarters, accompanied by a strong escort of Deputy Sheriffs. Each foreigner was provided with a musket and amunition, which they intended to use in case of an attempt at resistance. About half the miners debarked at McCrickert's mines, the Pittsburgh National at Noblestown, while the balance left the train at McDonalds station, sixteen miles from the city, and at the mines in that vicinity.

Upon their arrival at the above places, they concluded to take a rest from their extended travels. Ample provisions were made to secure an abundance of food to relieve them from hunger, and as soon as they have become somewhat refreshed, they will proceed at once to work. It is said that everything was quiet during the day, and no fears were entertained of any trouble, although a sharp lookout is constantly kept. About ninety-two per cent. of all who passed through the city last evening are married—all their families living in Italy. But few of them have had any experience in mining, but a part of their number have been engaged in other occupations. There were no additional arrivals yesterday in the city, but it is thought another lot will make their appearance soon—possibly to-day. Those who have arrived seem to be in fine spirits, and are enjoying fine sport with their fire arms. It is thought the action taken by the operators will virtually end the strike, and there seems to be a determination on their part to settle this question once and for all time to come. Italian labor in this particular capacity is a new thing, and no doubt further developments will be looked for with interest.

Taggart's System of Business.

The distinguishing feature of the boot and shoe business as conducted by Mr R. Taggart of No 129 Federal street, Allegheny is its marvelous cheapness. It is a surprise to many how he manages to sell boots and shoes of a first class quality at rates so exceedingly low. That he can and does retail his goods at wholesale rates is a fact which no one can dispute. If you want to save money on boots and shoes 129 Federal street, is the place to buy.

THE TAXPAYERS UNION.

Meeting of the Central Executive Committee—A Proposed Reform in the System of Taxation—A New Method for Equalizing Taxes—City Hall—The "Rising Main" Contract—The Courts to be Appealed to—Discussing Politics.

Yesterday afternoon a regular weekly meeting of the Central Executive Committee of the Taxpayers Union was held at their headquarters on Wood street, the President Isaac Jones occupying the chair.

The Secretary, Mr. George Finley read the minutes of the last meeting, which were approved.

THE TAXATION SYSTEM.

Mr. A. P. Norton, from the Committee on Taxation and Classification offered a report as follows:

The Committee on Taxation beg leave to offer a partial report for the consideration of the Taxpayers' Union, as follows:

WHEREAS, The laws regulating taxation within the city of Pittsburgh do not conform, either in spirit or letter, to the requirements of the Ninth article of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, which declares that "all taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax, and shall be levied and collected under general laws;" and

WHEREAS, These laws do not conform to the needs, interest, and circumstances of property holders within the now consolidated city, but operate with partiality and injustice towards a numerous and respectable body of tax-payers, whose claims and interests are on an equality with others, and whose rights should be protected by law; therefore,

Resolved, That the Tax-payers' Union hereby recommend the enactment by the Legislature of a general law classifying real estate for the purpose of taxation into three classes, within all cities of this commonwealth of the first, second and third class, as defined by the act of the 23d of May, 1874.

Property classified as No. 1 to be known as the business class, and to embrace all descriptions of stores, hotels, saloons, shops, offices and dwellings partially so used; also all other places of business, manufactories excepted, and upon property so returned by the assessor, there shall be assessed and collected a full tax.

Class No. 2 to be known as the Homestead class, and to embrace the home or dwelling with the ground enclosed or intended to be used therewith, whether the same be on the line of the populous street or in a more rural [illegible] the city; also, all manufactories with th[illegible] belonging to and used therewith; [illegible] real estate so returned there shall be [illegible] and collected only two thirds the rat[illegible] taxation that shall be charged on class [illegible]

Class No. 3. shall be known as t[illegible] class, and embrace the farm with its [illegible] also, the field and lot or lots of g[illegible] improved and not used for a business [illegible] upon real estate so returned, and mark[illegible] there shall be assessed and collected fo[illegible] poses, only one-half the rate of ta[illegible] charged upon class number one.

Resolved, That we recommend the p[illegible] a law directing the payment of tax[illegible] semi-annual instalments; the one-ha[illegible] amount to be paid on or before th[illegible] of October, and the other part on [illegible] the first day of April, and that no tax-collector be allowed a commission exceeding five per cent.

On motion of Major Frew, the report was accepted and its consideration postponed for one week.

CITY HALL.

A report was called for from the committe on the Legality of the last Election, but as the chairman was not present no report was had.

Mr. Alexander King, from the Committee on Municipal Hall, thought that Othello's occupation was gone in that direction, as the report of the Commission had been published. They could now do nothing until after the report of the auditors appointed by the court.

Mr. Wallace called attention to the bill for laying the tile in City Hall, which was $3,400. He would do as much work for $900 and would consider that a good price. He proposed, however, to have the work measured before next meeting, and would then see whether the bill of $5,000 for the tile, and $3,400 for laying was right.

Mr. McClain thought they ought to take some action looking toward an inquiry into such facts. The auditors appointed by Court would only look at the figures to see that the money had been legally expended. But this did not contemplate an inquiry as to whether the contracts were let at two high a price. The Union ought to have that matter investigated.

Judge Mellon had full confidence in the Auditing Committee, but they could not consider the cost unless the facts were brought before them. He thought the Union should have a representation before the auditors to call attention to any contract let too high. The matter ought to be referred to the attorney of the Union, to have witnesses, and to bring out all the facts.

Mr. Wallace said they ought to have Committees of Mechanics in each branch at work, to measure the work and calculate the price. That would show if there was too much money spent.

Mr. Finley thought that was the milk in the cocoanut. There was where the fraud was—the difference between what the look was done for and what it could have been done for. The voucher and figures might work all lovely, but were the prices too high. That was the keynote of the whole business.

Dr. Gallaher moved that the matter of making these investigations be referred to the Municipal Hall Committee, and that Mr. Wallace be added to that committee.

Mr. King said that mechanics could be subpoenaed, and that they could go over the plans and specifications and if it could be shown that the contracts had been advertised and let to the lowest bidder, then they should sanction the work. All the Union wanted was a fair investigation.

The resolution of Dr. Gallagher was then passed.

THE "RISING MAINS."

Mr. William Frew offered the following:

Resolved, That the recent letting of the contract for 50 inch rising mains by the Water Committee meets the disapprobation of the taxpayers, in deliberately giving away the sum of $5,000 without any consideration whatever, and the Taxpayers Union respectfully ask the Water Committee to reconsider their action before closing the contract.

Dr. Keyser favored the resolution. It met his hearty concurrence. The great trouble was with the small leaks. It didn't look much to saddle a few thousand dollars on the people, but these little sums soon mounted up—and at the last mounted up heavily. He favored a looking after these small items and there would be less danger of large leaks.

Mr. Wallace called attention to the fact that wrought iron pipe were to be used for the mains. He objected to that because it was well known that wrought iron pipe would rust and was not as durable as cast iron pipe. Experience in the use of both had proven that—the Mechanical Engineer to the contrary notwithstanding.

Judge Mellon had lost all confidence in the Water Committee's Mechanical Engineer. He believed him an honest man and an industrious man, but did not have confidence in his judgment because he had recommended so many things that were in opposition to other Engineers and against common sense. Hence he objected to the wrought iron pipe to be used for the rising mains.

But in reference to the letting of the contract he thought the committee had acted recklessly and without color of law. The committee in justification of their act, urged that they had trouble with Snyder & Co., in reference to the "mud drums," in the last contract, and did not, therefore, want them to have another contract. Hence the committee took advantage of their power to let the contract to the "best" bidder. That was a convenient term for the committee but had no authority of law. It would not do as an excuse for the Committee's action. If Snyder & Co. offered proper security and made the lowest bid theirs was the "best" bid, and the action of the Committee was unjustifiable.

Captain Ward called attention to the specifications for the mains. There was a provision that called for what was designated as "expansion joints." This joint could not be made—it was a mechanical impossibility. The provision was put there simply to scare some bidders off, and when the contract was let to the favorite, then this specification would be dropped and the straight pipe made, and the contractor pocket the difference—just as had been the case in the contract for the boilers. The contract for them called for steel heads, and yet these heads, were made of iron.

Dr. Gallaher favored getting out an injunction to prevent the letting of the contract.

Mr. Wallace said he "would make a motion to restrain them altogether from making wrought iron pipe until such time as we can find out their durability."

The resolution of Major Frew was then passed with an amendment ordering steps to be taken to get an injunction to prevent the closing of the contract.

THE POLITICAL OUTLOOK.

Captain Ward offered a resolution calling for the election of two delegates from each election district in the county, to a convention to nominate a county ticket to be voted for next November.

Captain Ward supported the resolution in an extended speech, in which he contended that if a good People's ticket was put in the field it would go through by three to one.

Mr. Finley favored the idea of putting a ticket in the field. That was the next movement in the checker board. It was a rare and golden opportunity to break the power of all rings.

Mr. Dunlap thought they had enough to do without mixing into politics and he thought that they had better not dip into political issues. He thought the exact question before them was taxation, and they ought to bend all their energies toward reform in that direction. This could best be done by gathering material, by calling the attention of the people to the facts, by proposing remedies, by remodeling the whole taxation system, and then they could go before the people and would win success.

Mr. R. J. Powers objected to going into politics at present. The candidates in the field had not yet had an opportunity to answer the questions put to them by the Union, and until time was given them, the Union should not mix in politics. He therefore moved to postpone the resolution until next meeting.

This motion was carried.

A BRAVE GIRL.

How a Servant Caught a Burglar.

During the absence from home of the family who reside at No. 11 Hand street, a burglar attempted to effect an entrance into the house by climbing in one of the front windows. A female servant observed this attempt and went to the street door. As soon as the fellow saw the girl he dropped from the window and secreted himself in the cellar. As soon as he had thoroughly disappeared the girl ran to the cellar doors, closed and locked them. Having thus made the burglar prisoner, she ran up Penn street in search of the policeman. She found officers Mike Mulvaney and John Moorhead, to whom she told her story. The policemen accompanied her to the house, and, entering the cellar, took the burglar into custody and marched him to the lock up. Here he gave his name as John Burke, and he was recognized as a well-known thief, who resides in the Ninth ward. The name of the girl who acted in this manner could not be ascertained.

POLICE RAID.

A Colored Dance House Visited by Officers—Forty-Eight of the Parties Present Arrested.

Situated on the corner of Wylie and Elm streets is a new four-story building, owned by J. D. Strause. The ground floor is occupied as a liquor store, and the second has been fitted up as a hall. Some colored persons have rented this hall and recently have been giving balls on two days in the week. These have been of a very disorderly character and quite a nuisance to the neighborhood. The festivities have been kept up until a late hour in the morning, and by that time many of the participants in the festivities would become well under the influence of liquor, and so boisterous and noisy that respectable residents in the neighborhood found it impossible to sleep.

Yesterday Mr. John McCallin visited the Mayor's Office to ask advice as to what had better be done to stop the nuisance, and was told that if he would make an information, the police should be instructed to break up the party and arrest as many as possible of their number. Mr. McCallin made an information against certain unknown parties, charging them with disorderly conduct. A warrant was issued and placed in the hands of Detective Pender. It was ascertained that a ball was to take place last night, and Detective Pender had a consultation with Lieutenants Musser and Smith, of the Fourth District police, as to the best way to break up the festivities. As a consequence it was determined to detail all the police of the district near the hall, and at a given signal to make an entrance from the stairways leading to it. About eleven o'clock last night the dancers were at the height of their fun, when about twenty policemen suddenly appeared upon the floor. An attempt was made by some to escape by the doors, but on trying this they found that all means of egress were carefully guarded. Some two or three jumped from the windows to the ground, but these were also gobbled by the officers. As a result of the raid, forty-eight prisoners were marched to the lock-up, twenty-three of whom were women and twenty-five men. Captain Irwin found his hands full in attending to these visitors, and, curious to say, though all the men were searched, not a single razor was found in the possession of the prisoners. Among the women there were four white females. The entire party will have a hearing this morning.

AMUSEMENTS.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—Last night Mr. Edwin Adams produced, for the first time during his present engagement, a very excellent dramatization of "Enoch Arden." Two years ago the gentleman appeared in this piece, when it caused a decided sensation, and the reminiscence of the merit of the performance no doubt had much to do with the large audience present last night. The management deserve much credit for the manner in which the drama was put upon the stage. The scenery is very effective, that in the third act, representing the desert island on which Enoch has been cast ashore, being really wonderfully realistic. Mr. Adams has made the character of Enoch quite a study, and as a consequence his rendition of the part is very finished. In the third act this is particularly the fact, the soliloquy upon his forced solitude being particularly effective.

The stock company again showed themselves equal to the parts for which they were cast. Miss Mary Rickords was thoroughly at home in the somewhat difficult character of Annie Lee, the forsaken wife. The Philip Ray of Edwin Price was carefully rendered but to some extent lacked animation, especially in the love scene between him and Annie. The other characters, all of which are but of minor importance were well taken care of. "Enoch Arden" will be reproduced to-night, and if the amusement loving portion of the public would enjoy a thorough treat the chance of seeing it should not be neglected.

BARNUM'S HIPPODROME.—There can be no doubt that Mr. Barnum has this year outdone in magnificence and magnitude all his previous efforts as a showman. In New York his Hippodrome was the resort of the amusement goers and press and people were loud in their praises of the performances and the perfection of the arrangements. On Tuesday Mr. Barnum will inaugurate a season of ten days in the Union Park, Allegheny, giving two exhibitions daily. To attempt to enumerate all the attractions offered would fill a column of any newspaper. All that need be said is that nothing like the Hippodrome has ever been seen in this or any other country.

LAFAYETTE HALL.—The advanced pupils of the Sherman avenue schools, of Allegheny, will perform the beautiful opera of Genevieve at Lafayette Hall on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week. The caste of characters will include Misses Ella J. Neale, Louisa Jones, Emma Jones, Lucretia Butler and Mrs. Eliza Grey, as principals, and also a full and efficient chorus. Prof. S. A. Neale will act as conductor and manager, and Prof. R. H. Moore will preside at the piano. The price of admission is fixed at a very low figure, and as a compliment to Professor Neale it is to be hoped the hall will be crowded.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC.

MADAME ILMA DE MURSKA, the famous Hungarian prima donna, arrived from Europe by the America.

MISS JANE COOMBS and the Lingards include versions of "Sphinx" in their repertoires. The former is now in St. Louis.

THE Kellogg English Opera Company will begin its next season at McVicker's Theatre, Chicago, on the 15th of October.

MISS EMMA CRANCH has been engaged to sing at Theodore Thomas' concerts, two of which will be given at Milwaukee next week.

REFERRING to a recent unsuccessful dramatic enterprise, the Chicago Tribune unkindly remarks that the manager "will return to the dry goods counter and sell calico; the company will resume their individual occupations—selling old clothes, carrying hods and washing dishes."

A VALPARAISO dispatch dated August 28th, says: "The tragic actress Ristori, implored and obtained the pardon of Munoz, who was about to be shot. The Government was induced to commute the sentence of death, Ristori signing the act of clemency. Enthusiasm indescribable."

A SAD mishap to Mrs. Scott Siddons is reported from Portsmouth, England. Not long ago, she was thrown from her horse and injured her spine, and brandy and caustic were prescribed; but the maid removed the brandy in the glass on clearing the table, and the caustic was taken by mistake. She was forced to postpone an appearance at short notice.

At the Theatre Royal, Edinburgh, the manager, Mr. R. H. Wyndham, has made, for the season, engagements with Mr. Sothern, Mrs. Scott Siddons, Mrs. John Wood, Mr. Charles Matthews, and others, and there is every prospect of success for the management. In view of the expiration of his lease, it is said that Mr. Wyndham is to shortly purchase a site, on which to erect a larger and more commodious theatre than the Scottish metropolis has yet known.

THE Messrs. Gatti's concerts at Covent Garden are wonderfully successful, and the attendance, this year, far surpasses that of last season. Royalty has condescended to bestow its patronage on these specially popular entertainments in the persons of the Prince of Wales and the Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh. The programmes show marked improvement, and M. Herve is less nervous than at the outset, although his conducting is not yet equal to the merits of the fine orchestra. On the 26th ult., a "Beethoven Night" was given, and the "Pastoral Symphony" was played to the apparent satisfaction of the audience.

THE EDGAR MURDER.

Trial of Thomas K. Potts—Testimony of the Witnesses.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Thomas K. Potts, indicted for the murder of George Elgar, on June 7th, in a house of ill-repute on Watson street, owned by Minnie Watson, was called up for trial yesterday morning in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, Judges Sterrett and Collier on the bench. The Commonwealth was represented by Col. Bayne, the District Attorney and Thomas M. Marshall, Esq., while W. C. Moreland Esq., and Major E. A. Montooth, appeared for the defense. Almost the entire forenoon was occupied in empannelling a jury, after which the case was opened by Col. Bayne, who proceeded to explain to the jurors the different verdicts which they might find, viz: Murder in the first degree; Murder in the second degree; Manslaughter and acquittal.

The first witness called was Mrs. Elgar, the mother of the deceased, who testified that she had heard her son making his dying statement, and that his wife was visiting her mother at the time Elgar was shot. Mrs. Elgar was considerably affected while giving her testimony. She is a widow, her husband having died some two years ago.

Wm. Wakefield was sworn. He testified that he had took Elgar to the Central Station on Sunday afternoon and conveyed him to his (the witnesse's) house, and that he heard the physicians tell him he could not live. He was present when he made his dying statement to 'Squire Krehan.

Afternoon Session.

Chief Irwin was sworn and testified in substance that Potts had said he did not know who did the shooting.

James Donovan testified that he was at the house at the time of the difficulty—was up stairs, heard a noise in the lower room and went down—found Elgar and Potts quarrelling. Donovan struck Potts and knocked him down on a bed, and seeing Potts with a revolver he struck at him, knocked him on the bed and held him there, while he called for Harrisson, one of his companions, to come and take the revolver from him. The revolver fell on the floor, when some one called "police." Just then Potts made a spring and seized the revolver and shot Elgar.

Bernard Karns, sworn—I was at the house of Mrs. Marsh on the Sunday of the shooting; I was the last to enter the house; this was at 8:30 A. M.; when I got into the house I saw Elgar going up stairs; Elgar knocked in the door of the room where Potts was; when Elgar got into the room Potts asked him what he was doing in the room and ordered him out; the two men then got into a wrangle; Donovan then came in; Harrison and Donovan then took hold of Potts and began scuffling with him; I called "police," and McGraw ran away; when I got in the street I heard two or three pistol shots; Donovan came out of the house after the shooting; a few minutes after Elgar came out of the house and said "I've got it;" I went to the house more for the purpose of getting George away than anything else.

David Goggins, sworn—Was at the Watson street house on the morning of the murder; I went to the house with Elgar and Harrison; Elgar and Harrison went upstairs; I went into the back yard; when I came back Elgar was in the room with Potts; Potts was talking very loud; Elgar was saying nothing; just before the scuffle I ran up stairs; when I was upstairs I heard the shooting; I heard two shots fired; that's all I know about the case.

Captain Reed of the night police sworn—I remember two pistols being brought to the watch house but I didn't know who by.

Officer George Cochran sworn—I assisted in the arrest of Potts; he was found in the cellar of the house on Watson street; I searched him at the lock-up; I found two pistols on him; (pistols produced); I think those are the pistols; Potts handed out the revolvers while we were searching him.

The court adjourned at this point to meet this morning, when the evidence will be resumed.

DYSPEPSIA

Is characterized by a great variety of symptoms, the most prominent of which are pain after eating, belching, heartburn, waterbrash, fulness of stomach, with tenderness, load or weight in that region, debility, loss of flesh, despondency, headache, bad or capricious appetite, palpitation, cough, nervousness, restlessness, etc., etc.

When the disorder is of long continuance other organs of the body soon become affected, and the lungs, liver, brain, or kidneys frequently suffer. In fact, dyspepsia is the forerunner of chronic diseases, such as consumption, scrofula, hemorrhoids, uterine difficulties, colic pains, paralysis, neuralgia, female derangements, nervous spells, weaknesses, etc., etc., and may be complicated with almost every and any disease.

To determine these there is no better criterion than the urinary secretion.

By this we are enable to determine whether it be dyspepsia from liver complaint, kidney affections, nervous disorders, or, in case of females, from uterine affections, derangements, or irregularities, or whether these affections proceed from the dyspepsia, and to treat the case inaccordance with the true conditions, the fixed principles of a science.

There is no guess work about it. We have cured hundreds and thousands of cases of dyspepsia by a single course of medicine; others require more, however, according to the disease with which it is complicated. DRS. OLDSHUE.

A BANK ROBBED.

A Bold Daylight Grab—A Successful Game—A Haul of $2,300—The Escape of the Thief With His Booty—How the Job Was Set Up.

An astonishingly bold robbery was committed shortly after twelve o'clock yesterday at the Bank of Industry, on the corner of Fifth avenue and Scrip alley and between Grant and Smithfield streets. Mr Hanrahan, the Cashier, had just returned from dinner, relieving Mr. Ross, the teller, who went to fill the void in his stomach. The latter had just gone out when a stranger came in and engaged Mr. Hanrahan in conversation at the window, in the glass partition over the counter, nearest the door. No other persons were in the bank at time. The man made various inquiries regarding deposits of money, the making of loans, &c., and desired to know what inducements could be offered to depositors having more money than they knew what to do with—to all of which he received courteous answers. It eventually turned out that this man wasn't one of that kind. After a few moments spent in conversation, Mr. Hanrahan left the man standing at the counter and went into the Directors' room, in the rear of the office, to take off his hat and coat and get a newspaper to show some quotations. When he returned—he being absent but a few seconds—he was surprised to find that the man had disappeared, and on glancing at the pile of bank notes on the money counter against the wall, several feet in the rear of the front counter, he found that part of it was gone also. The mystery of the robbery is in the fact that it was committed during the exceedingly brief time the cashier was in the Director's room. At the rear of the counter is a room that admits of the passage in and out of the officers of the bank. While the cashier was in conversation with the stranger an accomplice of the latter evidently slipped in and took up his position near the door referred to, which is seldom if ever locked. When the Cashier went into the back room, he must have glided swiftly through the door and rushing quickly to the money counter, seized as many notes as he could at one grab and then made off with his booty as fast as possible. In making the detour around the counter in the accomplishment of the theft, the robber must have taken twenty or thirty paces, which seems almost incredible in view of the short time the Cashier was gone. As soon as the loss was discovered, Mr. Hanrahan went to the door to look for the stranger but could see nothing of him nor of any one who looked like him. He is described as short, heavy set, and dark haired and good looking. The detectives were immediately informed of the robbery, and at once commenced an investigation of it, but have not yet made any arrests. Various rumors were current as to the amount of the money stolen, some of the reports placing it at $12,000, others at $10,000, $8,000 and so on. It was ascertained by investigation that the actual amount taken was $2,350. The Board of Directors held a meeting as soon after the robbery as they could be notified. Eight members out of eleven were present, and they decided to make good the loss. Another meeting will be held to-day for that purpose.

In conversation last night with Mr. Joseph Ross, President of the Board, he stated that to him the robbery was a very daring one—one of the most daring he had ever heard of, but as explained by the Cashier he does not consider it at all impossible.

The teller, Mr. Wm. Ross, says that from the description he judges this to be the same man who called the day before at the bank, when he (Ross) was alone, and interviewed him in a similar manner. Evidently the fellow was getting the "lay of the land," to see how the job could be set up.

The only surprise was that it should have been committed while Mr. Hanrahan was in charge, as he has always been noted as one of the most cautious and efficient cashiers in the city. The fact that he was, in a measure the victim, shows that the robbery was as skilfully executed as it was boldly planned.
